Library catalog ID: b14618126

Record Creator: Zurayq, Qustantin, 1909-2000

Collection Title: Constantine Zurayk Collection, 1909-2016

Collection Dates: 1909-2016 [bulk 1909-2000]

Physical Description: 56 archival boxes (18.6 linear feet)

Abstract: Constantine Zurayk is a historian, educator, public intellectual, and diplomat who wielded key influence on the establishment of Arab nationalist thought and movement. He played a pivotal role as an analyst of Arab history and contemporary socio-political issues and crises. Zurayk's voluminous productions in the form of books, articles and speeches addressed key aspects of Arab history and civilization for much of the twentieth century. His publication of National Consciousness (1939) and the Meaning of the Disaster (1948) marked watershed moments in Arab intellectual and political history. In addition to his institutional and intellectual work, Zurayk was a pedagogue, teacher and mentor of generations of students. Zurayk also participated as a founding and/or active member in many educational, research and cultural institutions and associations across the Arab world and in the international arena.

Languages: English and Arabic mainly, some French and Hebrew.

Scope and Content

The collection of Constantine Zurayk's personal papers reflects the life and work of a prominent historian, public intellectual, Arab nationalist and institution builder, throughout the 20th century.

This is an important collection for researchers interested in various scholarly fields pertaining to the twentieth-century histories of the Levant and the broader Arab world. Most prominent of these fields are the histories of higher education and adjacent research institutions (both regional and international); Arab intellectual history with a focus on Arab nationalism and historiography; networks of Arab nationalist thought and organizing with a focus on al-Urwa al-Wuthqa society; and more broadly, a history of the intellectual, cultural and political milieu in Beirut and the Arab world during his lifetime. This is also an important collection for material on the Arab response to the Zionist project in the Arab world and the struggle for the liberation of Palestine, which were lifelong preoccupations for Zurayk. The collection holds documents, manuscripts, reports, articles, speeches, and lectures he delivered on the question of Palestine and Western imperialism in the region.

The collection is divided into eight series as outlined in the following section (please read the series descriptions below for a detailed account of the contents of individual series). The first series includes biographical and personal material in addition to honorings by various institution. The second contains obituaries and commemorative events after his death in the year 2000. The third series is a record of his education at AUB, Princeton University, University of Chicago, and Columbia University. The fourth series contains documents that pertain to Zurayk's academic and public service. The documents emanate from his work as a university educator, academic administrator, and diplomat. It also consists of records created during his public activities in cultural and academic arenas within Lebanon, the Arab World, and internationally. Spanning 16 archival boxes, the series is divided into two sub-series: the first is a record of his institutional service in diplomacy, higher education and UN institutions; the second is a record of his curriculum for Arab history, historiography and civilizations.

The fifth series are documents related to his research and publication records created in his capacity as a researcher, historian, writer, lecturer, speaker and public intellectual. Spanning 22 boxes, it is divided into two sub-series. The first contains records emanating from the research and drafting of his various monographs, in addition to his public lectures, speeches (both public-facing and his pedagogical Chapel Talks), newspapers contributions, and interviews. The second sub-series consists of secondary sources and background material related to the above. The sixth series contains his correspondence with family, friends, students, and colleagues spanning most of life and career. The seventh series contains photographs emanating from Zurayk's various professional and public engagements with a local, regional and international scope. Finally, the eighth series contains audio-visual material emanating from some of the above activities.

Biographical Sketch

Dr. Constantine Zurayk was born in Damascus, Syria on April 18, 1909, to Kaysar Zurayk and Afifeh Khoury. First educated in the Greek Orthodox School in Damascus (Assieh), he enrolled at the International College for a year and then entered as a student in the School of Engineering at the American University of Beirut. He was lured into the Department of History by Professor Philip Hitti, and he completed a Bachelor of Arts in History at the American University of Beirut (AUB) in 1928; a Master of Arts at the University of Chicago in 1929; and a Ph.D. from Princeton University in 1930.

Zurayk returned to Beirut in 1930. He served at AUB as Assistant Professor of History (1930-42), and as Associate Professor of History (1942-45). With Syria's independence in 1946, he was called upon by the Syrian government to accept various diplomatic roles, taking leave of absence from AUB. Zurayk was appointed as the First Counselor of the Syrian Legation in Washington, D.C. from February 1945 to July 1946, and then as Minister of Syria in Washington and Syrian delegate to the United Nations (1946-1947), where he served in the General Assembly and as an alternate delegate to the Security Council.

Zurayk returned to AUB as Vice President and Professor of History in 1947. He was called upon again in 1949, this time to become Rector of the Syrian University in Damascus. He served as Rector until 1952 and returned as Vice President of the American University of Beirut and Dean of the Faculties (equivalent to provost) for the period 1952 -1954. He served as Acting President from 1954 to 1957. Zurayk became Distinguished Professor of History in 1956, and Distinguished Professor Emeritus in 1977. In 1965 and 1977 respectively, Zurayk was a Visiting Professor at the University of Columbia, followed by Georgetown University and the University of Utah. Concurrently, Zurayk was a member and a leading figure in various scholarly, cultural and international organizations such as the Institute for Palestine Studies (founding member), the Arab Academy in Damascus (member), UNESCO's International Commission for a Scientific and Cultural History of Mankind (member), and the International Association of Universities (member of administrative board, then President and Honorary President).

In 1940, Zurayk married Najla Cortas, and they had four daughters: Ilham, Huda, Afaf, and Hanan. Zurayk passed away in Beirut on August 12, 2000.

Zurayk's pedagogical, intellectual, and institutional endeavors were crucial to the fields of Arab higher education; intellectual history at the end of and after the nahda; and the development of Arab nationalist thought and action in the twentieth century. His publications marked key periods of modern Arab history and thought, most notably are his books in 1939 (National Consciousness - الوعي القومي) and 1948 (Meaning of the Disaster – معنى النكبة). In the latter text—translated to English in 1956— Zurayk coined the term nakba to assess and reflect on the Arab condition amid the ethnic cleansing of Palestine in 1948.

During his long career, Zurayk taught generations of students at the AUB, regularly delivering public lectures at AUB and outside. He published many books and articles on Arab history, culture, and future perspectives, as well as on the philosophy of history. His influential interventions on Arab historicity, identity, and civilization emphasize dynamism, agency, and Arab unity within a universal-humanist horizon as a counter to all forms of determinisms and sectarianism

Series V: Research & Publications [Paper records: textual; audio-visual]

Physical extent: 22 boxes [Boxes 27-48]

Dates of record creation: 1926-2000

Scope and content: Series consists of records created in Dr. Zurayk's capacity as a researcher, historian, writer, lecturer, speaker and public intellectual. It also consists of secondary sources and background material related to his writing and speeches, as well as assessments, reviews and news items about his publications and contributions. In particular, records were created in the course of Zurayk researching and drafting his various publications; and as a regular columnist of Al-Hayat newspaper الحياة. It also reflects his role as a speaker and lecturer in cultural, academic and political settings in Lebanon and internationally including: at significant political and cultural anniversaries; at memorials of notable personalities and commemorative events; as President of the International Association of Universities; as Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Palestine Studies Institute; at the inauguration of universities in the Arab world and Africa; at a range of AUB related events such as Alumni Association events, convocations, "Chapel Talks", anniversaries of the university's establishment, the passing of Faculty members, the appointment of new presidents or Faculty members, and student group meetings and events. Records also relate to interviews and addresses he gave over the radio, and on television programs. These lectures, speeches and broadcasts take place in Lebanon, and across the Arab world and the U.S., as well as in Canada, Britain, Uganda, Japan, and elsewhere.

The series consists of drafts, newspaper clippings, handwritten notes, speeches, lectures, bibliographies, and correspondence. Some pamphlets, booklets and books are also in this series.

The series includes drafts and final versions of speeches, lectures, publications, and newspaper articles written, published, and delivered by Zurayk. Records also include correspondence between Zurayk and a range of institutions and individuals regarding his publications and speeches, as well as related book reviews, scholarly writings, and newspaper articles. The series also consists of records pertaining to the organization and constitution of political, cultural, and intellectual associations of interest to Zurayk, or of which he was a member.

The series is divided into two sub-series:

- V.1: Publications (Book drafts, Addresses, Speeches Articles & Related material (boxes)
- V.2: Secondary Resources Background Research & Related Records (boxes)

Series VI: Correspondence with friends, family, colleagues & students [Paper records: textual]

Physical extent: 5 boxes [Boxes 49-53]

Number of items: 1046

Dates of record creation: 1927-1999

Scope and content: Series consists of correspondence between Zurayk and his friends, family, colleagues, and students. This collection traces Zurayk’s trajectory throughout his academic and intellectual development as well as his personal life. It starts with correspondence related to his studies in the U.S., his academic development, and his relationship to professors and mentors such as Dr. Philip Hitti and the successive presidents of the AUB. Further, the series contains personal correspondence with students and friends. This series reflects Zurayk’s role as a student, professor, and an academic researcher, as Acting President at the AUB, and at other public service institutions such as the Institute for Palestine studies, the UN Delegation, and the Syrian Delegation to the United States. The series also traces the emergence of al-Urwa al-Wuthqa as an AUB student association and the subscriptions to its magazine when under the supervision of Zurayk.

The series consists of textual records in paper form, comprised mostly of correspondence as well as speeches, recommendations, and contracts.

It also includes correspondence between Zurayk and notable personalities and colleagues such as: Dr. Philip Hitti, Mr. Farhan Shubailat, Mr. Charles Malik, Albert Hourani, Nicola Ziadeh, Ismail Khalidi, and George Hourani, Anissa Rawda among many others.
